MAY CALL MILITIA

KANSAS GOVERNOR THREATENS MILITARY ENFORCEMENT OF LIQUOR LAW.

Volunteer Association Says Prohibition Law Is Not Enforced.

Pittsburg, Kan.—So many are the infractions of the prohibitory law in Crawford county, Kansas, that the militia is expected to be called out at any time by Gov. Stubbs to assist in law enforcement. Gov. Stubbs recently called the volunteers to form a kind of moral guerrilla band for raiding Crawford county. Liquor valued at $12,000 was seized in wholesale houses under instructions from the attorney general.

Orders Liquor Returned.

Judge Charles Sapp of the district court of Crawford county has ordered a cessation of operations of the Crawford and Cherokee Volunteer association. He has also held that the liquor seized from the wholesale houses was wrongfully confiscated and has ordered it returned to its owners.

Members of the Cherokee and Crawford County Volunteer association say that saloons in Cherokee county are equipped as are saloons in states where the sale of liquor is legal. There are 35 saloons in Cherokee county. In Crawford county, the volunteers say, there are only eleven open saloons and twenty-seven joints. The mining towns in which several murders have been committed recently, are the location of open saloons and several wholesale liquor houses. The members say that there are seven saloons and one wholesale house in Wier, six and a wholesale house in Scammon, nine and a wholesale house in Mineral, seven in Corona, one in Stippville, two in Turck, four in Skidmore and one in Daisy Hill.

IS UP TO PROHIBS

GOVERNOR OF OKLAHOMA TELLS PROHIBITIONISTS HE WILL MAKE THEM DEPUTIES.

Believes They Should Help to Enforce Prohibitory Law Without Pay.

Oklahoma City, Okla.—Aroused by the charge being made by the prohibitionists in Oklahoma that the state is not enforcing the prohibitory law, the governor has issued the following statement:

It is up to the prohibitionists of this state to make good their claim that prohibition is effective, and if they are willing to undertake to suppress the illegal sale of liquor without pay, I will furnish them with all the commissions they need," the governor declares.

Will Take 500 Men.

The governor says that 500 men could break up "boot legging" in Oklahoma, but the state has made no appropriation to pay for that number of deputies.

"It is impossible to get absolute prohibition, just as it is impossible to entirely prevent any crime," the governor says, "but illegal liquor selling can be greatly reduced. I believe that so long as there are laws on our statute books, they should be enforced, and as governor I will do what I can to enforce them. It is up to the prohibitionists."

LOCAL OPTION AS A TEXAS SENATOR PUTS THE ISSUE

Dallas, Tex.—Former State Senator Senter of Dallas was challenged by B. Q. Evans in the recent prohibition campaign to a joint debate on the question of county option. Senator Senter replied as follows:

"My engagements preclude a political campaign on my part at this time. If, however, you wish a subject for discussion relevant to the issue, I beg to suggest the following:

"Resolved, That the people of Hunt county are in a better position and are better qualified to determine what is best for the people of Comal county in the way of prohibitory legislation than the people of Comal county."

"Or, if you prefer to put it on the reverse side:

"Resolved, That the people of Comal county should be empowered by law to vote prohibition out of Hunt county."

"On each proposition you assume the affirmative. Of course, I take it as unquestioned that you, as a just and fair man, are willing to give the people of Comal county the same authority with respect to the affairs of Hunt county that you seek to give the people of Hunt county with respect to the affairs of Comal county."

So far B. Q. Evans has not agreed to debate on the issue as it is stated.

"DRY" TOWN BUYS 1,500 WHISKIES IN 15 MINUTES.

Easley, S. C.—Despite the fact that no one is supposed to sell liquor in the State of South Carolina except the county dispensaries, a man named Doolittle passed through here recently with a large supply of intoxicants and disposed of fifteen hundred bottles in fifteen minutes. He was arrested and charged

Have an Aim in Life.

Go into a factory where they make mariners' compasses, and you may see the needles before they have been magnetized. They will then point in any direction, but from the moment they are applied to the magnet they point to the north, and are true to the pole ever afterward. In this they are like the young man before and after he has a purpose in life.

Famous Book Agents.

Napoleon Bonaparte was once a book agent; Jay Gould was a canvasser; George Washington in his youth sold over 200 copies of a subscription book; General Grant for a time earned his living as a subscription agent; Webster and Bismarck paid part of their college expenses through a book agency.

Industry of Orchid Collecting.

In the Brazilian state of Pernambuco orchid collecting has developed into a large industry which affords employment to many foreigners as well as natives. From there orchids are either shipped direct to foreign ports or are sent to coast firms which act as agents for business houses all over the world.

Expert Information Sought.

Nurse Girl—"Oh, ma'am what shall I do? The twins have fallen down the well!" Fond Parent—"Dear me; how annoying! Just go into the library—very gently, so as not to disturb Fido—and get the last number of the Modern Mother's Magazine; it contains an article of 'How to Bring Up Children.'"—Town Topics.

Life Beyond Death.

If we can say with Seneca, "This life is only a prelude to eternity," then we need not worry so much over the fittings and furnishings of this ante-room, and more than that, it will give dignity and purpose to the fleeting days to know that they are linked with the eternal things as prelude and preparation.—Minot J. Savage.

Straight Current Most Deadly.

Volt for volt, the direct or straight current is more deadly than the alternating current. There is always tiny bleeding in the brain in bad electric shock, so it is a mistake to lay the shocked ones with the head low for this increases the many little deadly bleedings in the brain.

One way in which the New Brunswick government has encouraged farming progress lies in the importing of cattle and horses of approved breeds and selling them to farmers at cost price, in some instance time being given on part of the purchase price.

Even.

Scientist—"We are now getting messages from Mars and answering them." Inquirer—"But you cannot understand their messages, can you?" Scientist—"No. But, then, they can't understand our answers, either."—Toledo Blade.

Cultivate Ideals.

Ideals are like stars; you will not succeed in touching them with your hands, but like the seafaring man on the desert of waters, you choose them as your guides, and, following them, you reach your destiny.—Carl Schurz

When the Tact Comes.

Some opportunity will come at some time to every man. Then it depends upon himself and upon what he shall have made of himself what he makes of it and what it will make of him.—James J. Hill.

Brother Dickey's Opinion.

"Politics," said Brother Dickey, "is ex uncertain ex a woman who says one minute dat she'll marry you an de very next minute tells you dat you sho' must 'a' dreamed it!"

Even If He Is French.

Nearly all the glass eyes are made in Germany, so you may be almost sure when you meet a man with a glass eye that he is partly German.

Unheard Of.

Jorkins—How did you ever come into possession of such a cheap-looking umbrella as that? Dorkins—Why, I got this umbrella in a very peculiar way—I bought it.—The Pathfinder.

Indictment of Mankind.

Few things are needed to make a wise man happy; nothing can make a fool content; that is why most men are miserable.—La Rochefoucauld.

Smoothing It Over.

When a man is referred to as being good hearted it means that he has some weakness his friends try to overlook.—Acheson Globe.

Easy Thing to Do.

People who are extravagant on themselves are often wonderfully ingenious in devising plans of economy for others.

Strange Coincidence.

Partick churches (near Glasgow, Scotland), suffered from the failure of the electric light the other Sunday night—just at the height of a thunderstorm, when it was most needed. One minister had just read the first two lines of the hymn, "As darker, darker fall around, The shadows of the night—when plump went out the light and the church was in darkness for a quarter of an hour.

Child's Lucky Star at Work.

A five-year-old child, Simone Catinot, of Havre, France, had a wonderful escape from death lately, when she fell from a fourth floor window. The child had been left alone in a locked room, and as she could not open the door, she broke a pane of glass with an umbrella and jumped out of the window. She was taken to a hospital, but after a careful examination was pronounced uninjured.

Joan of Arc's Sword.

A sword in the Dijon museum has just been identified as that used by Joan of Arc and presented to her by Charles VII. of France. On one side of the hilt, says the London Mail, is engraved a figure kneeling before a cross, and the inscription "Charles VII." while the other side bears the name "Voucouleurs." The sword also bears the arms of France and of the town of Orleans, and the date 1419.

Bridget's Resolution.

The secretary of a social club was presented with a cut glass loving cup. His servant surveyed the object the next morning. "Look at him three handles on 't' pitcher," said Bridget. "They know if Oi break one of them handles they'll have two left, and if Oi break two they'll have one left, so they'll always have one. They will, they will. I'm not so sure about that."—Success Magazine.

Be Honest.

Honesty is also one of the fundamental principles it never pays to break. If to be a good fellow means you are to sneak, or steal, or lie, then you dig a pit into which one donkey certainly will fall, and his name will be spelled just like yours.

Disturbing to a Precise Man.

"This place removed" is a sign you see often enough in empty store windows. "I can never be used to it," said a precise man. "I can never be used to it," said a precise man. "I can never be used to it," said a precise man. "I can never be used to it," said a precise man.

Queer Sacrifice.

The story of a tragedy of charity comes from Paris. The other day a septuagenarian widow named Bertin was so distressed on hearing the story of a starving family that she shot herself and left them the whole of her money—$250.

Fool-Humorist Hurt.

One of those wounding humorists, who was going to light a cracker under the carriage of the bride party, had his hand blown off by the same. If it must happen to someone—let it apparently must—then, more justly, to the humorist himself.

Naturalizing Him.

"This man doesn't seem to know much about the constitution." "But he didn't miss a ball game last season, judge." "Then I guess he's assimilated."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Comeback.

Wife—"To be frank with you, if you were to die I should certainly marry again." Husband—"I've no objection. I'm not going to worry about the troubles of a fellow whom I shall never know."—Variety Life.

Fantastic Theorist.

"Why do you think that extremely rich people are likely to go to a place of fiery torment?" "Because," replied the cynical person, "only they could afford the fuel necessary to keep it going."

Sherbet From Violets.

Sherbet made of extract of violets was much esteemed in the east and Mohammed is reported to have said of it that it surpassed all other extracts. In some parts of Europe it is customary to mingle violets, roses and lime blossoms with preserves to add a flower element to the fruity flavor. In Egypt and Turkey violets are used in making sherbets, as mint is employed in juleps in Kentucky.

The Beautiful Women of Today.

It is a satisfying reflection that the fame of the noted beauties of the day will go down to posterity not as the artificially bedecked and painted heroines of old, but conspicuous and celebrated by reason of their splendid manifestation of health, of youth, of comeliness.—Ladies' Field.

Businesslike.

A man at Munich who lost $10,000 in bank notes in the street a few days ago, and advertised $300 reward to the finder, received a check for $9,700 from the finder, a man of a businesslike turn of mind, who wrote that to avoid delay, he had kept on his

MANY VIOLATIONS

OKLAHOMA HAS ONE LIQUOR LAW VIOLATION TO EVERY 342 POPULATION.

Texas, With Local Option, Shows One Violation to 2,218 Population.

How They Line Up.

Dallas, Tex.—An investigation into statewide prohibition in Oklahoma, conducted by Senator Q. U. Watson, has brought out that there are 1,771 cases for violation of the liquor laws now pending in the thirty-five counties of that state. Senator Watson addressed letters to each of the county clerks in Oklahoma, asking them to furnish the data for their county. The population of the thirty-five counties is 616,128. There is an average of one charge of violating the liquor law to each 342 of the population.

How They Line Up.

The following table shows the number of cases in each county and the population of that county:

County.	Number of Cases.	Population.
Creek	208	18,365
Delaware	37	9,875
Tillman	25	12,800
Carter	21	26,402
Le Flore	66	24,676
Blaine	25	17,227
Wagoner	300	19,529
Marshall	36	13,144
Grant	8	17,633
Beckham	32	17,758
Canadian	11	50,110
Kingfisher	19	18,010
McCurtain	4	13,128
Ottawa	49	15,595
Choctaw	30	17,340
Craig	200	14,955
Pontotoc	16	23,057
Canadian	40	39,241
Murray	25	11,948
Cherokee	128	14,274
Payne	25	22,022
Roger Mills	10	13,239
Harper	4	8,899
Logan	5	39,711
Oklahoma	300	58,849

Cimarron	0	14,307
Major	4	8,925
Pushmataha	4	15,517
Woods	4	13,364
Beaver	0	13,478
Custer	101	13,478
Total	1,771	616,128

Further investigations made by Senator Watson in Texas showed that under county option there were 410 cases for violations of the liquor law in sixty-four counties with a total population of 899,744. In four of these counties in Texas there were single cases pending charging violations of the liquor laws. In "state-wide" Oklahoma there are only three such counties.

Texas Is Better.

A further comparison between the figures of Texas counties and those of Oklahoma counties, shows that there are more than seven times as many cases charging violations of the statewide prohibition laws in Oklahoma than there are charges of a like character for violation of the local option laws in counties in Texas. In Texas there have been prosecutions on an average of one man to each 2,218 population for violations of the local option law.

The county clerk in Vinifolia, Oklahoma, replying to Senator Watson's request, said: "Prohibition has been a utter failure in this country. At least nine out of every ten cases are whisky cases." This court does not handle drunks, but there are plenty of them. There are 687 criminal cases pending."

APPEAL TO LEGISLATORS TO STRENGTHEN PROHIBITION LAWS

Augusta, Ga.—In a frantic effort to retain prohibition in Georgia, Dr. P. M. Dubose, of the Protestant Ministers' association, and Col. Henry S. Jones, representing the Law and Order league of Richmond county, have addressed letters to every member of the Georgia legislature urging that the near-beer license law be abolished. The letter says:

"So nearly absolute is the disregard of the state law against liquor selling that the power of the local police is no longer invoked against it, and juries have contemptuously refused to return verdicts against offenders where the evidence has been as point blank as truth itself. The money consideration paid by the near-beer vender to both state and city has been made a cover for lawlessness, and for its part the city government has become an impotent witness of widespread disorder and law infraction."

TAKES THREE TODDIES A DAY AND HALE AT 105 YEARS.

Savannah, Ga.—Patrick Kinney, 105 years old, who lives on a farm near Douglas, Coffee county, is unable to recall the time in his life when he did not smoke and chew tobacco or use intoxicants.

Mr. Kinney says he only takes three toddies a day but smokes and chews whenever he feels like it. He is a vegetarian and declares that meat kills more people than it keeps alive. Mr. Kinney is physically in good condition and declares he has many more years to live. He thinks nothing of walking several miles a day.

The record in the King's county of Orange, Ireland, shows that Mr. Kinney was born on Easter Sunday, 1806. He came to Georgia in 1836 and has been a resident ever since. He served during the civil war in the federal navy.

Mexico's Rubber Industry.

Mexico is among the pioneers in rubber culture, as there exist today plantations more than a quarter of a century old. For many years Mexico has been one of the largest producers of rubber, and its exports have reached enormous figures, and while a small amount of this was guayule or bastard rubber, the largest proportion was of the cultivated product.

Medicines for Plants.

"The general public are not the only users of patent medicines," said a florist as he opened a box of small metallic pills. "Lately we have adopted the French custom of feeding our plants whatever element they happen to need in this shape. The pills are buried in the soil and are slowly absorbed, and the resulting growth is remarkable."

Laid the Foundation.

March 24, 1811, which saw John Jacob Astor's brigantine Tonquin enter the Columbia river, was a great date mark in American history. Around the fur trading post which his men established near the mouth of that stream, close to the present Astoria, was built the first American settlement seen on the Pacific.—Leslie's.

Properly Punished.

"I refuse to pay. If I do, I hope my arms will drop off," declared a man recently when summoned by the Stourbridge (Eng.) Guardians for declining to pay a week towards the maintenance of his mother. A startling sequel to his oath occurred the other day when he became paralyzed, and lost the use of both his arms.

Airship's Predecessor.

"Stephenson broke another record today. His 'Rocket' made a flight of five miles, carrying four passengers, and left the rails only twice." "Very remarkable achievement, very—but you can't tell me that the steam engine will ever be of any real practical value."—The Tatler.

Work in Harmony.

In Brazil monkeys and parrots not only roost in the same trees but work for mutual benefit. The parrots gnaw the big nuts loose from the tree, let them fall in order to crack them and the monkeys tear the husks asunder, gather the nuts and divide them with the parrots.

A Salmon Feared.

Friend (to Juror): "Did you get quit the prisoner when he refused to owned up to the theft?" Juror—Well, you see, the foreman argued that a man who would steal would also lie about it, so we didn't want to convict an innocent man.

Conservation Comedy.

"We countrymen have the best of it. When all else fails we can eat the forest preserves." "I don't know that you have the best of it," retorted the city fellow. "We have our subway jam."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Wisdom's Real Object.

Wisdom does not show itself so much in precept as in life—in a firmness of mind and mastery of appetite. It teaches us to do, as well as to talk; and to make our actions and words all of a color.—Seneca.

A Packing Hint.

When traveling it is a good plan to line the trunk with a large sheet or piece of muslin. When all the clothes are packed the ends of the sheet are folded across the top of the clothes and pinned firmly with safety pins.

Must Have Meant Paragon.

They could not have been otherwise than rather young, though I could not see them on account of the screen. "You're the only girl for me," he told her—"you're all my fancy painted you—the very paragon of woman-kind!"—Success Magazine.

Conquer Self-Distrust.

Self-distrust is the cause of most of our failures. In the assurance of strength there is strength, and they are the weakest, however strong, who have no faith in themselves or their powers.—Bovee.

Utilize Every Moment.

Know the true value of time; snatch, seize, and enjoy every moment of it. No idleness, no laziness, no procrastination. Never put off till tomorrow what you can do today.—Earl of Chesterfield.

Going Up Aloft.

A woman nine feet in height has felt obliged to consult a specialist in diseases of the heart. Can you picture that specialist, with stethoscope in hand, going up a stepladder?—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Always.

When a man begins by saying: "I want to tell you a good joke on myself," you may be sure that he is going to try to make somebody else appear ridiculous.

The Mere Worth.

The men who try to do something and fail are infinitely better than those who try to do nothing and succeed.—The Caxton Magazine.

INDUSTRY THRIVES

ILLICIT WHISKY MAKING IN ALABAMA INCREASED WHEN "DRY" LAWS PASSED.

Federal Revenue Officers Find It Difficult to Suppress Moonshining.

Birmingham, Ala.—The prohibition law in Alabama increased the illicit distilling industry so greatly that J. O. Thompson, internal revenue collector for Alabama and Mississippi, has asked the government for an increase of deputies to cope with the situation.

During the past year, the deputies in these two states have made over four hundred arrests for moonshining and have destroyed nearly one thousand stills. The industry is growing in spite of the government's activity in trying to stamp it out, and Collector Thompson says that, without the state's aid, the moonshine business never can be suppressed. A bill to give state aid to the government in stamping out moonshining was killed in the past session of the Alabama legislature.

Reasons For Moonshining.

There are three reasons why the ignorant moonshiner will continue to make and sell whisky. First, the profit from the sale of illicitly made whisky is enormous. Secondly, there is a fascination about the business which appeals to mountaineer and lowlander alike arising from the combination of danger and the pitting of the wits of the moonshiner against those of the revenue deputies. Thirdly, the moonshiner can see no moral wrong in making whisky from grain the earth produces, and selling it for a living.

Moonshiners make profits averaging as high as $100 a day. A still was destroyed in the mountains of Alabama recently which cost $50. It was turning out seventy gallons of whisky a day when it was captured, and the product of the still sold for $2 a gallon and was disposed of as soon as made. A still called "the pan and snake" costs $6. It will average five bushels of corn a day and will earn about $25.

Ideal For Distiller.

Winston, Lawrence, Blount, Jackson, Marshall, DeKalb, Walker and other mountain counties are the corn whisky producing centers of the state. In the lowlands a product is made from syrup scrapings. The geography of the mountain sections of Alabama is peculiarly adapted to the business. Revenue officers know well the danger that may lurk behind rocks and in the deep dingles and dark hollows of these steep regions.

The moonshiner is very much the same in looks as the farmer of his region. Usually he is alert and shrew

All communications should be addressed to the Editor.

In last week's issue of the Courier we had something to say in regard to the practice of sending money out of the county to mail order houses. We have always opposed this practice as being detrimental to our best business interests. A country is prosperous in proportion to the prosperity enjoyed by its citizens as individuals. A few prosperous people in a community don't make a prosperous community. To enjoy the greatest degree of prosperity all the citizens of a community ought to work together mutually. Until this fact is more universally recognized, real prosperity will exist only in name.

The writer of this article knows of different places where he could buy almost every article which he uses in his home much cheaper than he can get them at home, but it is contrary to his scruples to patronize mail order houses when the same article can be purchased of a home merchant, even if the home merchant is compelled to charge a little higher price. The local business man can't carry as large a stock of goods as a mail order house, and hence can't always meet their prices on even terms but that is no fault of his, it is the result of a local business condition.

Suppose the local merchants should all quit business? Suppose there was not a store in Morgan county, what kind of a predicament would we all be in? Did you ever stop to think about this when you were sending your money off to a mail order house? It would be rather inconvenient to have all the stores and groceries to close simultaneously. We are not afraid that this is going to happen, however, but the principle is involved just the same.

Why wouldn't those principles apply to a print shop as well as a store? Let's see—The Morgan County Publishing Co. has a well equipped job office, taking into consideration the size of the town and the business demands of the county. We can't compete with the Paragon Printing works or other large publishing houses, but our work is as good and our prices are as low as any country print shop in Kentucky.

But not withstanding the fact that we are constantly championing the rights of our home merchants and business men, some of them withhold their patronage from us because we are not able to meet the prices of larger publishing concerns.

The rule "You scratch my back and I'll scratch yours" doesn't seem always to apply.

We regret very much that we had to put our Industrial Edition off until next week. But owing to the fact that our cuts did not arrive in time, we were compelled to wait until our next issue. We hope that no one will be greatly disappointed. Next week we intend to give you the best paper ever gotten out in Morgan county.

INDEX.

A large number of our citizens attended the camp meeting at Cannel City Sunday.

Aunt Nancy Williams, of Malone, is visiting relatives here this week.

Curt Lacy and W. P. Elam, of West Liberty, have sold to J. B. Howard, the timber that they recently bought of Sarah Elam.

Judge Hannah is at his father-in-law's, W. G. Henry, a very sick man.

David Williams made a business trip to Caney, Saturday.

Monroe Gevedon was here last week taking pictures.

J. B. Howard bought the first railroad ticket issued at Index.

Reys. J. L. Ferguson and Harlan Cottle preached Sunday at Sycamore Grove.

Grover Gear, of West Liberty visited home folk Sunday.

Ighead.

MURPHY & EZEL.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rose visited Andrew Oldfields and wife, of Mize, Saturday.

Several from this place attended church at Grassy Sunday.

Dr. Nickell and wife spent Sunday with their daughter, Mrs. M. F. Dennis.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Yocum, spent Sunday with Miles Yocum.

Chess Carter, of Bonney, was in town Saturday.

Miss Florence McGuire, of Jackson, was the guest of Goldie Waldeck last week.

School will begin at this place Monday with Jas. M. Davis as teacher.

Our school at Grassy creek is progressing nicely under the supervision of Dillard Murphy.

G. F. Halsey addressed the people at the Grassy school house Sunday night. May the good work go on in this part of the county as well as elsewhere.

J. B. Murphy bought 500 ties of J. M. Hill for $100.

GRASSY CREEK.

I thought I would write another sketch for the Courier, as my article was so closely pruned last week, that it practically died. July is not a good season of the year for pruning. I don't mean to write anything that would be offensive, or to infringe on the rights or privileges of any citizen of this commonwealth, or anything that would cause one to reflect on our esteemed editor. I only aim to write such things as will lead to the upbuilding of the county, and that would be an auxiliary to the promotion of good citizenship, and to give the local news.

With the above explanation we reiterate a portion of our article, in regard to horse men who are preparing to entertain people who come for the good of the meeting. It is nothing more or less than an imposition on the good citizens in the vicinity of the association. Enterprise association refuse to tolerate it any longer. Horse jockeys are as welcome to come and receive free entertainment as any people on earth, if they will leave their old swapping horses at home, otherwise they had better come prepared to pay their bill. Perhaps they can find lodging somewhere for the money. We regard them all as gentlemen and if they want to swap horses let them set a time and traffic a whole week if they are so disposed. The very idea of men collecting together and blocking the public road for one-half mile with old plug horses and drunken men, is a nuisance—and embarrassing to ladies, who have to pass through such a crowd. Please don't bring your swapping horses to Grassy at our association.

In regard to the erection of stands for the purpose of selling soft drinks, or anything else, the church at Grassy has made an order forbidding the sale of anything within any distance prescribed by law. Any person erecting a stand for the purpose of selling anything, will be considered an intruder, and will be dealt with accordingly. A hint to the wise is sufficient.

Bro. Bush has been holding a series of meetings at Goodwin's Chapel, with good success—several have been converted and baptized. He has had the co-operation of other ministers.

The funeral of Marion Nipper (who was cut to pieces with a circular saw) was preached 4th Sunday at Bethel chapel, by Eld. B. F. Testerman, G. V. Lykins and W. F. Lykins.

Lee Carter, of Charleston, Ill., is visiting friends and relatives on Grassy Creek at this writing. Josiah Havens, of Grassy, will start next week to the far west to hunt a location for a future home.

Success to the Courier and all its readers.

$100 REWARD. $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh Hall's Catarrh cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Address F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by all druggists.

WINCHESTER
Repeating Shotguns
USED IN THE U. S. ARMY.
The U. S. Army authorities know a gun; that is why, when they decided to equip some troops with repeating shotguns, they selected the Winchester in preference to all other makes. The experts of the U. S. Ordnance Board also know a gun; that's why, after submitting a Winchester Repeating Shotgun to all sorts of tests, they pronounced it safe, sure, strong and simple. If you want a shotgun—buy the one whose strength and reliability led the U. S. Army authorities to select it and the U. S. Ordnance Board to endorse it—that's the Winchester.

You Can Lead a Horse

to water but you can't make him drink.

You can't make him eat either. You can stuff food in, to a thin man's stomach but that doesn't make him use it.

Scott's Emulsion can make him use it. How? By making him hungry, of course. Scott's Emulsion makes a thin body hungry all over. Thought a thin body was naturally hungry didn't you? Well it isn't. A thin body is asleep—not working—gone on a strike. It doesn't try to use its food.

Scott's Emulsion wakes it up—puts it to work again making new flesh. That's the way to get fat.

THE REV. IRL R. HICKS Almanac and Magazine

Should be in every home in the land. His weather predictions are based only in his own publications. No other publisher is permitted to print them in any form, either with or without credit. His 1909 Almanac excels all former editions in beauty and value, and sells for 25 cents, postpaid. His monthly magazine, WORD AND WORKS, contains his weather forecasts for each month, together with a vast amount of the best family reading and costs $1 a year, one almanac with each subscription. Every earthquake and serious storm for 29 years has been predicted by Prof. Hicks. You cannot afford to be without these publications. Address all orders to

County Organizer and Manager Wanted.

A leading Fraternal Insurance Order desires a reliable white man to take charge of its work in this County—to introduce the Order—solicit Members—collect monthly dues—organize lodges—appoint and manage sub-agents and so on.

No previous experience is needed, as we will teach you how to operate. This is a splendid opportunity for a good man, with liberal pay and chance of promotion.

Devote spare time at start, with whole time later on.

Well known man wanted, strictly honest, good ability, one who is a hustler and will get out and push the work forward.

This is a great chance to become an influential leader, to help your fellow man and make a good income for yourself at the same time.

This Society pays benefits for sickness, accident and death. The lodges have grand ritualistic work, strictly new and up-to-date in every particular.

No other Order like it was ever started. Over 65,000 memberships already issued and growing very fast.

Write immediately for further particulars, giving full information of yourself in letter. Address in confidence, Supreme Commander General, Box AB293 Covington, Ky.
